NEW ORLEANS ENTERTAINS VICE PRESIDENT AND WIFE

New Orleans, May 6.—Vice-President and Mrs. Marshall were here today for a luncheon given in their honor by local civic organizations. Tonight the Vice-President will make the dedicatory address at the opening of the New Orleans Press Club. The Vice-President and Mrs. Marshall are on their way east from the Pacific coast.

William F. Ferris, for 40 years cashier of the Greenwich, Conn., Savings bank, died there.

SAFFORD GUILTY; PROSECUTOR JABS SLADE IN THE EYE

Jury, Out Eleven Hours, Finds That Hotel Clerk Committed Perjury.

New York, May 6.—Franklin D. Safford, the hotel clerk who swore that James W. Osborne registered with Rose Tanner as "O. Osborne and Mrs. O. Osborne," was found guilty of perjury last night in Federal Judge Hough's court. The jury recommended mercy. The men came in at 10:30 o'clock, having been out 11 hours. It was reliably reported that the jury stood 11 to 1 from the start.

After court had adjourned the jury having been discharged, crowded out with the spectators and lawyers. Assistant United States Attorney Roger B. Wood, who had conducted all the trial for the government except the summing up, stopped Juror No. 3, Joseph Cassel, and said something to him in a low voice. Mr. Wood, brother of the indicted Slade brothers and attorney for the defendant, stepped up to him.

"What do you mean?" he said to Mr. Wood. "That right have you to talk to a juror?"

The remark was a signal for a fight. Slade's fist was raised and Mr. Wood's right hand was also in the air. Accounts differ here. Mr. Wood says he did not strike Slade. Benjamin and David Slade and some bystanders say that not only did the blow of Cassel's attorney hand, but that it landed flush in the eye.

Only one of the two double doors leading from the court room was showing. While some of Slade's adherents tried to break through upon Mr. Wood, deputy marshals endeavored to separate the Slade adherents from those of the government lawyer. Mr. Wood, having his ground, did not seem pleased that the officers interfered. The men then crowded so closely together that none could strike a blow.

Benjamin Slade, who by this time had been pushed out into the corridor or had conceived another plan, noticed Judge Hough leaving his chambers. The Slade party turned from Mr. Wood to the judge.

"Your Honor!" shouted Benjamin Slade excitedly. "Roger Wood has hit me in the eye right in the court room!"

"Is that so?" replied Judge Hough calmly. "I didn't see it."

"Roger Wood hit me in the eye right in the court room!" again cried Mr. Slade. "I demand an investigation. Your Honor! The witnesses are here. You can hold it now."

"I saw nothing of it," Judge Hough said, reminding the lawyer. "You may have your witnesses when court convenes tomorrow morning. I will not take up the matter tonight."

Brother Dave Sarcastic.

The Slades and their friends continued in high excitement and talked loudly about the corridors for several minutes. Deputy Marshals kept Mr. Wood well surrounded, though he kept protesting that he was able to take care of himself and would go where he pleased in the building.

"I want to see him," he said instead of my brother Benjamin," said David Slade, one of the indicted lawyers. "But if I had hit Wood instead of Wood hitting my brother, I would have been locked up to-night."

No sooner had the Slade group started down the stairs to the street than another altercation took place. This was between Juror No. 4, and the foreman, Henry K. Keadragon. The foreman walked up to Mr. Cassel, who was standing near the elevator shaft. Cassel glowered.

"If you come any nearer to me," he said, "I'll smash you in the face!"

Keadragon started toward Cassel, and there was another struggle, while deputy marshals crowded between the two and got them apart. Cassel was finally persuaded to go out. Keadragon went into the office of an assistant Federal attorney.

Not Equally Matched.

Mr. Wood and Benjamin Slade are of about the same height, but Mr. Wood is slight and Mr. Slade stocky. In the struggle Mr. Wood was broader across the shoulders.

"I didn't hit him," said Mr. Wood when the trouble had subsided. "He came up to me and remarked offensively that I was speaking with a juror. I told him to get out; that I wouldn't talk to him."

After the jury returned its verdict Judge Hough remanded Safford for sentence Monday morning at 10:30 o'clock. He discharged the jury from further service on the panel at the current term, expressing his gratification at the manner in which the members had performed their duty.

Assistant United States Attorney Hershenson, who assisted in the prosecution, said he was convinced that substantial justice had been done. The government, he said, would proceed with a prosecution of Rose Tanner for perjury on the ground that she, like Safford, had sworn falsely to the identification of James W. Osborne as "O. Osborne." She is now under indictment on a charge of using the mails to defraud.

Neither James W. Osborne nor United States Attorney Marshall was in court when the verdict was given.

Rania Loses Claim For Compensation For False Imprisonment

Salvator Rania, of Derby, Conn., yesterday lost his claim for $10,000 against the state of Connecticut for having been falsely imprisoned for a period of nearly four years in Wethersfield prison. The committee of claims in the General assembly reported unfavorably upon the case.

The case is one which some years ago attracted considerable attention when in one of the most dramatic moments in the life of the late Silas Judson, states attorney for Fairfield county, he announced that both Salvator Iemina and Salvator Rania had been unjustly convicted of an attempt to murder Paymaster Merritt, near Greenwich, Conn., November 20, 1907. Both men had been convicted of the crime and sentenced in the Superior court to fourteen years imprisonment.

State's Attorney Judson appeared before the board of pardons and made an eloquent plea for the release of both prisoners, producing evidence that another man had confessed his sole responsibility. The same official later protested deportation upon the part of federal authorities. Rania later returned to this country and began suit for damages.

ENFORCE SANITARY WRAPPING RULE FOR BREAD AND PASTRY

The new bread and pastry regulations of the Board of Health are in force, and are well observed according to cursory investigations made by health inspectors during the past few days. The new laws require that all bread, sold over counters, and wrapped, must be enclosed in sanitary paper of the standard variety.

It is also required that grocers or other merchants purchasing bread, pastry, or cake from bakers, furnish sanitary receptacles in the form of covered boxes. These are being furnished by bakers who take advantage of the opportunity to advertise their products.

In some instances it has been found that these are left upon the ground, but according to the regulations prescribed they should be at least two feet above the sidewalk, and inspections will be made to observe that the rule is carried into effect.

Mrs. Hisler Goes To Prison After Withdrawing Plea

Winchester, Me., May 6.—Mrs. Eugenia Hisler retracted her plea of not guilty of the murder of her husband, Fred Hisler, and pleaded guilty to a charge of manslaughter here today. She was sentenced to state prison for not less than seven nor more than ten years.

Hisler was killed on Feb. 3, Mrs. Hisler's trial beginning Tuesday. Witnesses testified that the woman had admitted killing her husband by hitting him over the head with a stick. Jealousy was given as the motive. Hisler was 35 years of age and his wife was nearly 30 years older.

Two Departments Seek To Stop Short Postage

Washington, May 6.—The department of commerce has joined in the campaign of the postoffice department to eliminate what is termed the short-paid postage evil in connection with American letters going abroad. To that end it is seeking the co-operation of commercial organizations and business men throughout the United States.

Reports reaching the commerce department indicate that the practice of business men of sending out their foreign correspondence insufficiently stamped is a factor which unfavorably affects the natural extension of America's foreign trade.

Villa Sympathizers Driven From Homes

Douglas, Ariz., May 6.—Because they sympathized with the Villa cause, residents of San Miguel, in Sonora, were driven from their homes by the Carranza adherents in neighboring towns of Navajo and Bascon, after an attack in which five men and a woman were killed and several wounded, according to a report brought here early today.

Because of the failure of the legislature to appropriate sufficient money, the annual encampment of the New Jersey National Guard at Sea Girt was abandoned.

Summary OF THE War News

Reports of consistent progress on the part of the allied forces in the Dardanelles were contradicted in an official statement today from the Turkish war office.

It was said the troops which landed on Gallipoli peninsula were in a precarious position being encircled by Turkish forces and unable to advance.

The statement was made that only two points on the peninsula had been won by the allies. —Suddul Bahr and Avi Burna—were held by the allies.

Despatches from French and British sources said further successes had been won by the allies. An attack by Turks on the encampment at Krithia resulted disastrously for them, according to these advices, the Turks having left 1,500 dead behind them after their repulse.

A British correspondent asserted that the tip of the peninsula and the entire western side were under control of the allies. Rome, Vienna and Berlin advices indicated that a crisis had come in the negotiations between Italy and Austria. In Rome, where it had been felt of late that war was inevitable, there has been a sudden revival of hope of a peaceful settlement owing to the fact that Austria is said to have realized the necessity of making substantial territorial concessions.

Vienna regards as significant a visit of the Italian ambassador to the Austro-Hungarian foreign minister, although the outcome was not disclosed.

Berlin newspapers said Italy's participation in the war must be regarded as not unlikely. Claims were made in Petrograd that the victory of the Russian army of the Caucasus over the Turks, announced yesterday, was an important and decisive one. A force of 30,000 Turks which attacked the Russians in the Dnieper-Khorol region was said to have been repulsed with heavy losses and compelled to retire in disorder.

Still another neutral steamer has been sunk in the North Sea, although whether by a mine or torpedo has not been established. The Danish vessel Cathay, from Denmark for China, was blown up by her passenger and crew, numbering 43, escaped.

Official VIEWS OF World's War TURKISH

Constantinople, May 6.—The following statement regarding the operations in the Dardanelles was issued this afternoon by the Turkish war office.

"The unfavorable situation of the enemy in the Dardanelles remains unchanged. Reports from Athens regarding the occupation of Gallipoli and Nagazari by landing forces so indicate."

"The Gallipoli peninsula is entirely at our disposal for movements. The enemy holds only two points on the coast, Sedad Bahr and Avburnu thanks to the constant firing of his ships. The enemy is unable to make any movements against the encircling forces."

"The Asiatic coast has been freed of our enemies."

FRENCH

Paris, May 6.—The French war office this afternoon gave out a report on the progress of hostilities reading as follows:

"To the north of Ypres we repulsed with facility a night attack made by the Germans from Stenestrate."

"To the south of Ypres the Germans yesterday, at a point near Zwartelen, attacked the trenches at Hill No. 40, occupied last month by British troops. They were repulsed by slaughter, during the course of which they again made use of asphyxiating gases, made them masters in the beginning of this position but our allies subsequently delivered a counter-attack and recaptured a portion of the trenches previously lost."

"From the front of Alsace the counter-attack delivered by us toward the end of the day made slight progress and we recaptured a portion of the position where the Germans had succeeded in gaining a footing in the morning. During the night the Germans delivered a counter-attack against our position at Mamelon, to the east of Sillakerwezen, the summit of which they re-occupied. All the remainder of our gain in the direction of the river Fecht has been consolidated and maintained."

AURILIO HELD IN NEW YORK DESPITE FURNISHING OF BAIL

Antonio Aurilio is still in the toils of the New York police and it is believed that he will remain in a New York jail for some time, though $1,500 for his release has been posted in this city by his father.

The case presents the unusual feature of a prisoner having furnished bond but unable to escape from behind the bars, and announcement was made in the New York courts yesterday that another postponement of the trial of the two men for which Aurilio is held as a material witness, had been granted until May 11.

Detective George Fox, who has charge of the case, asserted today that good lawyers had been retained by the men charged with carrying concealed weapons and running a "fence" for stolen goods and that it was likely the case might drag for some time.

Attorney Henry Greenstein, with whom Jacob Klein has been associated, has made several ineffectual trips to New York to secure Aurilio's release, which the New York prosecutor will not consent to without an additional $1,000 bond to insure appearance in that state when wanted.

STOCK MARKET

New York, May 6.—Opening.—Partial recoveries from yesterday's late selling movement were recorded during the day's early trading on the stock exchange, although the movement as a whole was decidedly irregular. Pressed Steel Car rose 2 points and Westinghouse, Crucible Steel and Amalgamated Copper a point each. Bethlehem Steel added five points to its material rise of the preceding session. Leaders like U. S. Steel, Union Pacific and Great Northern opened with gains, but these were soon lost as a result of recurrent weakness in Reading. The general list receded moderately after initial offerings had been absorbed.

Noon.—The unfavorable tone continued from the war news. The apprehension was shown in the market's feverish condition, Steel, Union Pacific and other leaders showing additional weakness. From this level there was a speedy rebound, followed by more irregularity and dullness. London and the continent were again sellers on a moderate scale. The trading was largely of a professional character, commission houses reporting a marked cessation of public inquiry. Bonds were irregular.

Leaps From Second Story Window When Police Raid Club

Jack Carroll, known to the police as a former "jump" jumper, jumped from a second story window in an ineffectual effort to escape arrest last week, it became known today. In the city court where he was charged with vagrancy and sentenced to the county jail for a period of 120 days.

The police had closely suppressed the fact of his sensational leap in the successful effort to locate and bring him to trial. This fact was accomplished last night.

Carroll, it was learned, had been in the old Congress club on Houston avenue last week, when the police entered the building to arrest several loiterers. When Policeman Sheehan approached him, Carroll jumped for a window and without hesitating leaped through, sprawling upon the ground. He recovered from the shock and made good his escape.

At the instance of Judge Coughlin, who observed that it was Carroll's "foolish appearance" in court upon charges of vagrancy, the warrant was changed to read "second offense" that the maximum sentence of four months in jail might be imposed.

Carroll today asserted that while the police believed they had broken up the "club" the "machinery" in the form of stoves and beds were still there.

SUFFRAGISTS TO DISCUSS MAKE-UP OF CONGRESS

New York, May 6.—The national board of the National Woman Suffrage Association issued today a call for a conference of suffrage leaders to be held in Chicago June 6 to 9, for the purpose of discussing the 64th Congress.

The call was signed by the Rev. Dr. Anna Howard Shaw, Mrs. Susan B. Anthony, Miss Susan Fitzgerald, of Boston and other suffrage leaders.

FETES FOR BRAZIL MINISTER

Montevideo, May 6.—There is being organized here a series of brilliant receptions and popular fetes to honor Dr. Lauro Muller, the Brazilian minister of foreign affairs, who is expected here the end of the week on a journey of several states in South America but particularly to Argentina, Chile and Uruguay.

The fetes, the Uruguay, the purpose of which is to bring about a stronger and more definite political union between these countries.

PROF. WILLIAM B. GRAVES DEAD

Andover, Mass., May 6.—William B. Graves, professor emeritus of mineral science at Phillips-Andover Academy, and father of Henry B. Graves, United States forester, died during the night aged 81 years. He was a native of Fairlee, Vt., and a graduate of Amherst College. He was a teacher at Andover Academy from 1865 until 1908.

FALLS ON ICY SIDEWALK.

Clarence A. Stearns, manager of the Stearns Chemical Company, living at 776 Irwin street, had the unusual experience of slipping upon an icy sidewalk at Main and John streets, yesterday. He received deep lacerations of the thumb and right knee. The presence of ice was due to the melting of a cake from a loaded ice wagon.

Morrissey Is Now One of the Finest

Harry Morrissey, the latest addition to the Bridgeport police force, went on duty this morning at 7:45 from the second precinct station. The young man was the recipient of many gifts of equipment from his father and numerous friends and was yesterday afternoon made the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Carr, on a motor trip and dinner at Naugatuck. Morrissey was appointed a policeman last Friday night, being sworn in at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon by George S. Hill, president of the police board.

The British steamer Great Western and the Peninsula and Oriental liner Poonah collided in the English channel off Guernsey. Neither ship was badly damaged.

Reynolds A. Tier, a resident at 1851 Main street, charged with non-support was placed upon probation this morning by the city court for a year. His wife, Ida, preferred the charges. George Billings, formerly of this city, likewise was placed on probation.
